Subject: CONTRACTOR SELF-ANALYSIS FORM DUE JANUARY 31, 2010

It's time to complete and submit the annual NDOR E.E.O. Contractor Self-Analysis Form. All contractors, subcontractors, suppliers and consultants who participate in NDOR projects (State and/or Federal funded) must complete and submit a Self-Analysis Form annually during the month of January. A form submitted for 2010 will be valid through January 31, 2011.

The 2010 Self- Analysis Form must be received by January 31, 2010.

The U.S. Department of Transportation requires NDOR to obtain every firm's Average Annual Gross Receipts. This information must be provided in Section 1 of the Self-Analysis Form or the form will not be accepted.

Any contractor, subcontractor, supplier or consultant who does not have a current Self-Analysis Form on file and begins work on any NDOR project must complete and submit a Self-Analysis Form within five (5) days. Prime contractors should ensure that all subcontractors and suppliers have filed their respective Self-Analysis Forms with NDOR prior to the firms starting work on any project.

PLEASE READ THE FOLLOWING BEFORE COMPLETING THE FORM.

Section 1 MUST be completed by all firms (including Average Annual Gross Receipts).

If a firm submitted a Contractor Self-Analysis Form to NDOR for 2009, and there have been no changes in the firm's E.E.O. or Affirmative Action procedures or personnel, it is not necessary to complete Sections 2 through 22. Just sign Page 2 and return both pages.

If you're not sure your firm submitted a Contractor Self-Analysis Form for 2009, you should complete the entire form for 2010. If there have been any changes in the firm's E.E.O. or Affirmative Action procedures or personnel since 2009, you must complete the entire form.

Mail or fax completed Contractor Self-Analysis Forms (before February 1, 2009) to:
